The Scholarship

The Master of Science in International Health Policy and Management (IHPM) Program is pleased to announce a competition for a full tuition scholarship to be awarded to an early- to mid-career development professional with a demonstrated commitment to effective health policy and management. The Scholarship for this one-year degree begins in August 2012.

The MS Program is designed to train students to take on increasingly responsible roles in health policy planning and in the management of policy and program implementation in health ministries and planning agencies, multilateral and bilateral development organizations, and NGOs. Students in this one-year program learn how to make the best use of policy analysis to determine which plans work, which are the most cost-effective, and which are sensitive to a country's values and cultures.

The IHPM Scholar will receive a full tuition scholarship for the 2012/2013 academic year. Airfare, health insurance and living expenses are the responsibility of the student. Letters of Nomination are encouraged from international and governmental development institutions and NGO's. Self-nominations are also accepted. Women and candidates with experience in policy, service delivery, or education-related work with poor and vulnerable populations are especially encouraged to apply. The application deadline is March 1, 2012.

Nominators may mail, fax (781-736-2774), or email (HellerAdmissions@Brandeis.edu) a letter of nomination to the Admissions Office.
