

MARJORIE S. TROTTER DOCTORAL FELLOWSHIP

Margot and Jonathan Davis

The Marjorie S. Trotter Doctoral Fellowship was created in 2014 by Jonathan G. '75 and Margot Trotter Davis, PhD'08. The fund is intended to provide stipend assistance to select fourth year PhD students at the Heller School of Social Policy & Management conducting rigorous research required to complete their doctoral dissertations.

Margot Trotter Davis, PhD'08, has been involved in the field of addictions as both a researcher and clinician for over 35 years. Margot received her PhD from Heller in 2008. She also has a master's degree in Social Work from Boston College. In addition to her work as a Senior Research Associate at the Schneider Institutes at the Heller School, she maintains a private practice with a specialty in substance abuse. She has worked for state agencies building community-based services for individuals with behavioral health disorders and consults with schools and non-profits on evidence-based approaches to treatment.

Jonathan Davis graduated from Brandeis in 1975 with a degree in Politics, and currently serves on the Brandeis University Board of Trustees. Jonathan is Founder and CEO of The Davis Companies, a real estate development firm in Boston. He has been widely recognized for his volunteer work and board memberships for a number of local non-profits.

Jonathan and Margot live locally and are interested in learning about and hearing from the recipients of the Marjorie S. Trotter Doctoral Fellowship.
