

Digitally-Divided to Digitally-United:

Early Lessons from the Pandemic Response

Tuesday, December 1
1:00-2:00 PM EST

Entering the pandemic, nearly 25% of Gateway City households did not have internet service at home; another 10% depended on unstable connections. 27% of Gateway City households did not have a computer at home. Through digital inclusion planning, Gateway Cities can sustainably increase access to technology and build digital literacy.

Join MassINC and the Eli J. & Phyllis N. Segal Citizen Leadership Program for the release of the report "Going for Growth: Promoting Digital Equity in MA Gateway Cities" and a panel discussion of how resources can be channeled in a targeted fashion to accelerate this work and garner a range of benefits.
